- Founding member of the design team, scaling the product through Series B and the rebrand to Monyo across physical card, iOS, Android, and web.

- Ship production SwiftUI through GitHub, using an AI-first Claude workflow to prototype, iterate, code, and QA.
- Built the cross-platform design system solo in 12 weeks, with tokens mapped 1:1 to iOS, Android, and web code, laying groundwork for server-driven UI.
- Led the creation of a Claude skill that designs and reviews screens against the system, making on-system design self-serve for engineers and PMs.

- Turned the paywall into a revenue driver: 1 in 3 viewers converted, generating ~$7M in advance originations and +$700K in advance revenue.
- Built the company's first design system, from Figma tokens to production code.
